Participants who have completed Evidence, Civil Procedure, Criminal Law, and Criminal Procedure: The Investigative Process and a minimum of 41 credit hours may be certified under the Student Practice Rule of the District of Columbia to represent clients in court. Upper-class students who do not meet the certification requirements also can take course.

Enrolled students are expected to spend a minimum of 20 hours weekly on clinic work, including instructional time.

This course is graded on a Pass/Fail basis.

Participants must be eligible for certification under the Maryland Student Practice rule. Please see Professor Leary for details.

With faculty permission, students may opt to take this course pass/fail. The selection of this option must be made by the end of the add/drop period. Please e-mail the registrar to select this option; failure to exercise an option by the deadline will result in default to a letter grade.

Evening students may enroll on a space available basis. Please see the appropriate instructor(s) for approval.

This course may satisfy one of the two upper-level writing requirements; however, a student may not count both this course and the Law Journal Writing course toward the fulfillment of the two upper-level writing requirements.

This course may satisfy one of the two upper-level writing requirements; however, a student may not count both this course and the Law Journal Editing course toward the fulfillment of the two upper-level writing requirements.

Successful completion of this course may satisfy one of the two upper-level writing requirements.

Directed Research may satisfy one of the two upper-level writing requirements. It is a two-credit course that may be completed in one or two semesters, at the option of the instructor.
Participants must be eligible to be certified under the Virginia Third Year Student Rule. Please see Prof. Leary for details.

Prerequisites: Constitutional Law I and Constitutional Law II (or 5 credit Con. Law for students who started prior to Fall 2013).

Limited to students having completed LSIC: Civil 914 (6 Cr) in Summer 2008.

This course can be taken only in conjunction with Becoming a Public Policy Lawyer Seminar (Law 431) or Public Policy Practicum (Law 575).

Students who enroll in either the Families and the Law Clinic or General Practice Clinic should keep their Thursdays clear for the scheduling of court hearings and other clinic-related activities.

This course is required for students who are in the Law and Public Policy Program. Day students must take this class during their third year. Evening students may take the class during their third or fourth year. Students taking the Public Policy Practicum must also register for a Legal externship for three credits or for one of the live-client clinical courses (Families and the Law, General Practice, Elder Law, Innocence Project, Criminal Prosecution Clinic or Immigration Litigation Clinic) during the Fall semester.

This course is offered as a two-credit graded seminar. All students who enroll in this course must also enroll in Legal Externship to obtain two or three credits for fieldwork. Students who are enrolling in their first externship for credit must enroll in one of the Becoming a Lawyer seminars during the same semester as the fieldwork.

Students enrolling in their first externship should register for 2 or 3 credits of Legal Externship and must also enroll in one of the Becoming a Lawyer seminars. Students in their second or greater externship should only register for 2 or 3 credits of Legal Externship.

This course fulfills the Professional Skills requirement.

Enrollment in this one credit course is limited to students in the Comparative and International Law Certificate Program.
All students who enroll in this course should also enroll in Legal Externship to obtain two or three credits for fieldwork.

This course can fulfill either one of the two upper division writing requirements or the Professional Skills requirement, but may not be used to satisfy both.

This course will meet 5 times over the course of the Spring 2015 semester (Jan. 10 & 24; Feb. 7 & 21, Mar. 21).

Students taking this course cannot also take the Maryland Bar Preparation course.

Limited to an aggregate total of 8 students in all sections of CCLS: Consumer Protection Project

Students taking this course cannot also take the Virginia Bar Preparation course.

Students have the option of taking this course in-class or viewing on-line taped lectures.

For non-Securities program students, this is an exam course. For those students, this course does not satisfy the upper-level writing requirement. Only students in the Securities Institute or concentration may be given a portfolio writing option. Those selecting the writing option would also take the exam, but it would count proportionally less toward the final grade.

Prerequisite: Criminal Procedure: The Investigative Process. Recommended for students to have completed or taking concurrently Criminal Procedure: Post Investigative Process.

Open only to selected students (year-long course). For more information, please contact Professor Dree Collopy.
