

Environmental Law at CUA: Course Selection Suggestions

The following course and activity suggestions are intended to help you build a strong program in environmental law during your time at CUA. Please feel free to contact Profs. Leiter and Silecchia with questions.

Core courses – don't miss these!

- Administrative Law (staple; fall 2010 or spring 2011)
- Environmental Law (elective; fall 2010)

Other highly relevant courses:

- Advanced Tort Law (elective; fall 2010 or spring 2011)
- Air Pollution Law and Policy (elective; spring 2011)
- Energy Law and Policy (elective; fall 2010)
- Land Use (elective; fall 2010)
- Natural Resources (elective; spring 2011)

Other relevant courses:

- Bankruptcy (elective; fall 2010)
- Becoming a Public Policy Lawyer (elective; fall 2010)
- Comparative and International Trade (elective; spring 2011)
- Corporations (staple; fall 2010 or spring 2011)
- Federal Income Taxation (staple; fall 2010 or spring 2011)
- Federal Regulation of Food and Drugs (elective; spring 2011)
- Health Law (elective; spring 2011)
- International Economic Regulation (elective; spring 2011)
- International Human Rights Law (elective; spring 2011)
- Law and Economics (elective; spring 2011)
- Law and Public Policy (elective; spring 2011)
- Law of Federal Aid Programs (elective; spring 2011)
- Law, Science and Medicine (Bioethics) (elective; fall 2010)
- Legislation (elective; fall 2010)
- Maritime Law (elective; spring 2011)
- Not for Profit Organizations (elective; fall 2010)
- Public International Law (elective; fall 2010 or spring 2011)
- Public Policy Practicum (elective; fall 2010 or spring 2011)
- Remedies (staple; fall 2010 or spring 2011)
- Securities Regulation (various electives; fall 2010 or spring 2011)
- Space Law (elective; fall 2010)

Good for you ... but less directly relevant:

- Advanced Legal Research and Writing (elective; fall 2010)
- Alternative Dispute Resolution or Mediation (various electives; fall 2010 or spring 2011)

Activities to consider:

- Do an externship at an agency or nonprofit
- Do directed research on an environmental law topic that interests you
- Join Columbus Community Legal Services
- Join the Environmental Law Society
- Join the Health Law Journal
- Take a class at another CUA school or another law school in the area
- Try out for our National Environmental Law Moot Court Competition team

Oh, and no matter what else you do, please HELP GREEN THE CUA LAW CAMPUS (talk to Prof. Leiter)