

Melissa R. Harke

Melissa Rovers Harke is a Senior Special Counsel in the Office of Chief Counsel in the U.S. SEC's Division of Examinations. In this role, she primarily consults on various examination initiatives and priorities involving investment advisers. Melissa spent her first 16 years at the SEC in the Division of Investment Management, where she served most recently as the Assistant Director of the Investment Adviser Regulation Office. Prior to joining the SEC in 2008, Melissa was an Associate in the Washington, DC and Wilmington, DE offices of two law firms. She received her undergraduate degree from Bucknell University, her law degree from American University, and she is admitted to the bar in both Delaware and the District of Columbia.